SHELF STABLE MEALS

Each winter, we face the possibility of days where we are unable to send out hot meals due to inclement weather or icy roadways. As winter approaches, we like to send each of our clients a couple of shelf stable, ready-to-eat meals to have on hand when we are unable to get a hot meal delivered to them.

Help us prepare by collecting the following items and sealing them together in a gallon-sized, zipper sealed bag:

- ready-to-eat canned soup (not the kind that requires water)
- nutri-grain or granola bar
- individual box of raisins
- individual canned or boxed juice (no grapefruit or energy drinks)
- individual container of fruit

Meal packages may be delivered to:
